How long have you been in the art?
 AN: Seven years now.
 TB: We understand you've featured in ten movies. How has this experience been?
 AN: All of them were pretty challenging in their own ways, especially the ones done in Europe.
 TB: Are you working on any current projects?
 AN: Yes. At this time I'm lead actress in an Ako production written and directed by Nanje John. Also earlier this year, I produced my first movie titled My Husband's Friend directed by Simon Timah.
 TB: Until now what kind of roles have you performed? Are you comfortable with them?
 AN: I have played roles such as a mad person, a player, submissive wife, movie extra roles and a lot more. And yes I'm so comfortable with them because as an actress, versatility is the keyword.
 TB: Which has been your favorite character?
 AN: In Crush I cry a lot, in

My Husband's Friend, I'm a submissive wife, and in The Closet, I'm a player who ends up losing all. I love the role I played in this particular movie because it brings out another side of me, not known to the public.

TB: What are your strong points as an actress?

AN: Hmmm, people say, they like my interpretation of roles and the way I relate with other people on set.

TB: What impression do your directors have about your performance?

AN: Apart from the normal challenges on set, I'd say they are very appreciative and will stop at nothing to bring out the best in me.

TB: What kind of roles do you prefer?

AN: I have no preference. I love challenges.

TB: Who are the people you admire in the acting field?

AN: The likes of Nse Ikpe, Genevieve Nnaji, Bimbo Akintola of Nollywood.

TB: where can one have more information about you?
